

Hongmu Lee

Waseda University, Japan

Hongmu Lee is a professor of risk management and insurance at the Waseda University in Japan. He received his Ph.D. from the Waseda University.

He is also the President of the Insurance and Risk Management Institute of Waseda University. This Insurance and Risk Management Institute is aiming the research with cooperation between industry and the academic world internationally on the insurance and risk management. Hongmu Lee has authored several books and published many articles in academic and professional journals mainly Korea and Japan.